DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

Sleepover pickup at 9, swimming at 12:55, and Thanksgiving tomorrow

Tishrei 30 · Rosh Chodesh Cheshvan today and Monday · grey and mild, high near 16°C, with a chance of showers after 2 p.m.

Zorah, today is the last day of Tishrei and the first of two days of Rosh Chodesh Cheshvan. Tomorrow is Cheshvan 1 and Thanksgiving Monday, and RHA is closed.

Jonah's sleepover at Stone's ends at 9 this morning. His swimming lesson at the Prosserman JCC runs 12:55 to 1:25, before the chance of showers goes up in the mid-afternoon.

The school week is four days. Tuesday lunch is pasta, Wednesday is sushi, and Friday is a 3:15 dismissal, the Early Years re-registration deadline, and Shabbat Noach, with candles at 6:14. Jonah's Saturday game against the Flyers is at 1:30.

GLOBAL NEWS

The Fairmont Royal York's executive chef makes a butternut squash and roasted pear bisque for Thanksgiving

In an Oct. 9 Global News segment with Susan Hay, chef Paul Shewchuck roasts squash and pears, simmers them with vegetables and spices, and blends the soup smooth.

Susan Hay cooked with Paul Shewchuck, executive chef at the Fairmont Royal York, for a Thanksgiving segment on Global News. He made two dishes: caramelized Brussels sprouts finished with Parmesan and grated black truffle, and a butternut squash and roasted pear bisque. The soup uses vegetable stock, so it works for a meatless first course.

He roasts two medium butternut squash and four pears at 400°F for 25 to 30 minutes, turning them once. Meanwhile he softens onion, carrot, celery and garlic in olive oil and butter for 8 to 10 minutes, then adds cinnamon, nutmeg and thyme. The squash and pears go into the pot with eight cups of vegetable stock to simmer for 10 to 15 minutes. He blends the soup until smooth, stirs in a cup of heavy cream and adds maple syrup to taste. It is served with toasted pumpkin seeds and serves four to six.

WHO WHAT WEAR

Who What Wear's Jasmine Fox-Suliaman lists six fall shoe trends she sees on the streets of Paris

Jasmine Fox-Suliaman looked at fall runway shows and recent street-style photos to pick six shoe trends that Parisian women are wearing this season. The first is a softer loafer, a loafer-slipper hybrid in supple leather that appeared at The Row and Celine. She says it goes with baggy jeans and a flannel shirt or with a slip skirt and sweater. Cap-toe shoes are back too, after Matthieu Blazy's recent Chanel collection updated the two-tone style.

Satin shoes showed up at Carven and Balmain and can be worn with work separates, slip dresses or cigarette jeans. High-vamp flats and pumps, which cover more of the top of the foot, came from Chanel, Alaïa, Toteme, Khaite and Tory Burch. She also lists animal-print and exotic-textured shoes, seen at Saint Laurent, Chanel and Jil Sander, and practical boots that mix riding, moto and rain styles, as at Celine and Hermès.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN

Family Day at the Gardiner Museum

Sunday, Oct. 11, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Gardiner Museum Makerspace (ground floor), Queen's Park. Canada's ceramics museum runs a Sunday clay session for families in its new Makerspace, with activities based on the collection and current exhibitions and led by museum educators and volunteers. Kids get in free and adults pay regular admission. The museum suggests bringing a recycled container or bag to carry the finished pieces home.

Fort York National Historic Site

Sunday, Oct. 11, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; free 45-minute guided tours on the hour from 11 a.m., last tour at 3 p.m. at Fort York National Historic Site, west of downtown. The fort has seven original buildings put up between 1813 and 1815, the largest group of War of 1812 military buildings in Canada, and its two blockhouses are among the oldest buildings in Toronto. General admission is free. The walled site is mostly outdoors with paved paths, and strollers are welcome.

Bushido, a kaiseki-style sushi restaurant inside Casa Loma, opens Oct. 22

Liberty Entertainment Group's new restaurant puts Yi-Joo Na, executive sushi chef at Blue Bovine, in charge of a seasonal tasting menu that draws on kaiseki and omakase. Guests move through different rooms of the castle during the evening, and the chef decides where each course is served. Toronto Life calls it a special-occasion dinner.

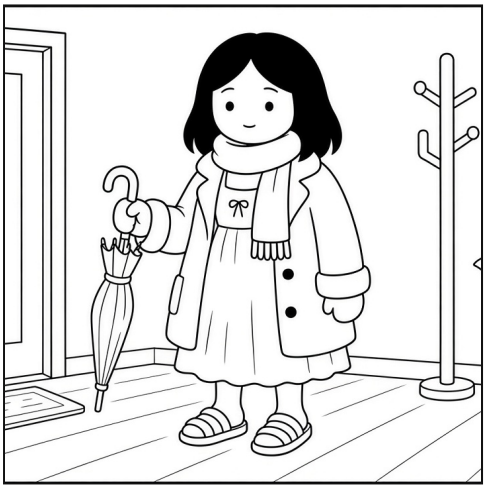

PUZZLES

Tuesday's forecast high is 24°C, so the summer dress comes back out.

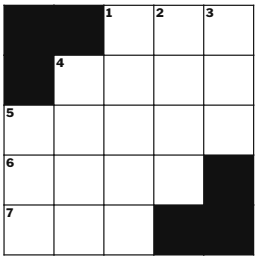

Thursday's high is 14°C, so the wool coat comes out too.

Tuesday also has a 53 per cent chance of rain.

DEAR TIMES

Do we have to finish the turkey this week?

Dear Times, We are having Thanksgiving dinner on Monday, and there will be leftovers. My son eats school lunch Tuesday through Friday, and he has already said he does not want turkey sandwiches. My husband and I can only eat so much of it. Do we have to finish the turkey this week?

— Three People, One Bird, Toronto

Dear Reader, No. Health Canada says to eat refrigerated cooked turkey within two to three days, so freeze what you will not eat by Wednesday, in portions, kept apart from the stuffing and gravy. Use some of it in soup or a pasta bake later in the month. Your son has pasta Tuesday, sushi Wednesday and Chinese food Thursday at school, so he is covered.
