DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

Yom Kippur holds the house quiet until 7:59

No school today; break-fast waits for the holiday to end tonight.

Zorah, Monday opens on a still note. RHA is closed for Yom Kippur on Tishrei 10, so the usual school rush stays off the clock. The day is for the fast, for a quieter house, and for keeping the break-fast table ready without peeking too early.

Daily brief: <https://sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/>

The holiday ends at 7:59 p.m. That is when juice, tea, and the bagel board can come out. Tomorrow school returns with Curriculum Night and a 2:30 dismissal. Wednesday sends Grade 6 to Mansfield. The RAV4 hail assessment is done, but Toyota still has not sent a repair plan or time slot.

Bagels, lox, herring, and a make-ahead kugel for tonight

A classic Ashkenazi break-fast board, ready when the holiday ends at 7:59 p.m.

Sara Abraham's guide at The Kosher Hub walks through a classic Ashkenazi break-fast: bagels and spreads, smoked salmon and herring, round challah left from the High Holidays, and something sweet such as honey cake. Kugel can sit from before the fast; smoked fish and sliced vegetables wait under cover. Start light with juice or tea, then move to the board once the holiday ends.

RECOMMENDED · FASHION

Jackets with toggles, funnel necks, and a yellow surprise

Harper's Bazaar's fall 2026 jacket roundup flags military-inspired coats with stand collars and decorative toggles instead of plain zippers.

Funnel necks rise high enough to skip a scarf; cropped lady jackets and contrast collars show up on barn-jacket shapes. Butter yellow turns up against navy and olive.

For cooler evenings after Curriculum Night, one solid jacket with a toggle or high collar is enough.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN · COOKING

Toronto Garlic Festival fills Allan Gardens on Sunday

Sunday, Sep 27, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. at Allan Gardens for the 15th annual garlic fest – Ontario growers, garlic dishes, culture talks, and playful contests. Free admission. Fits after Jonah's swim window, still inside Sukkot II.

Runway of Resilience returns Saturday at Brick Works

Saturday, Sep 26, 5-10 p.m. at Evergreen Brick Works – Indigenous-led fashion, food, and live entertainment for year three. Evening slot after Jonah-Hockey and before the Stone sleepover handoff.

A TORONTO NOTE

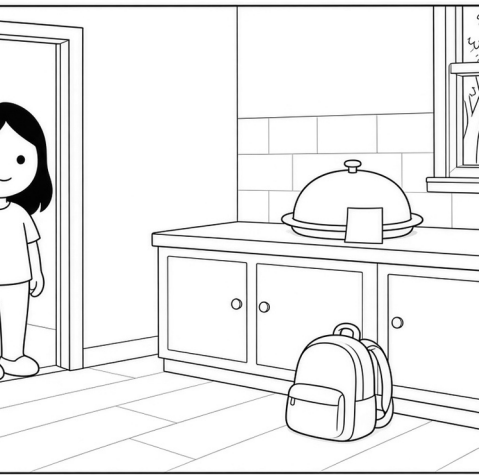

One jacket detail for cooler nights

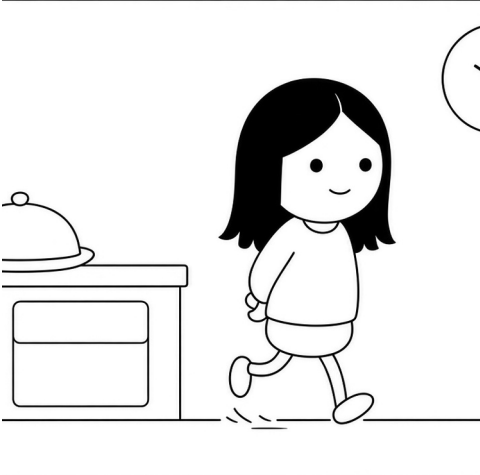

Toggles and funnel necks are the fall tell. Pick one piece for the walk to Curriculum Night and the evenings after Sukkot.

Event details can change; check the listing before going.

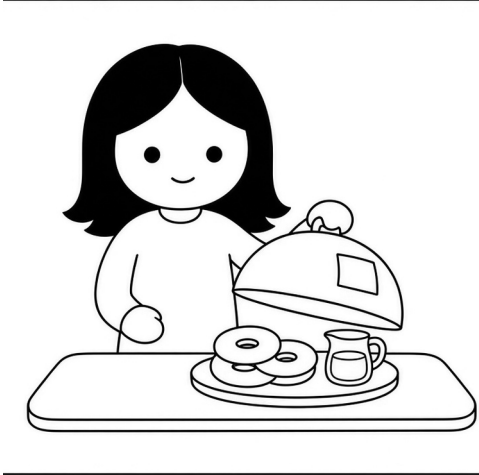

PUZZLES

No school. Still morning.

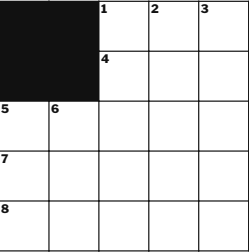

The table is ready. The day is not.

Holiday ends. Break-fast begins.

MINI CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- 1 Smoked salmon under tonight's break-fast cover.
4 Latin hail; a short greeting.
5 When the platter lid may finally lift (after "almost").
7 Uncovered – how the board should look after 7:59.
8 Very dry, like today's low-rain forecast.

DOWN

- 1 Same as 5-Across: after the holiday ends.
2 Same as 7-Across: not hidden under a lid.
3 Same as 8-Across: botanically dry.
5 Same as 1-Across: the salmon on the board.
6 Same as 4-Across: Latin hail.

DEAR TIMES

Does “almost” count for the break-fast platter?

Dear Times, The break-fast platter has been covered since last night and the sticky note says “After 7:59.” The kids keep asking if “almost” counts. Does it?

– Lid Watcher, Toronto

Dear Lid Watcher, Almost counts for hope, not for bagels. Leave the cover on until the holiday ends. Juice first, then the board.
