DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

School returns with Curriculum Night and a 2:30 bell

Week 1 lunch is pizza day; Mansfield is tomorrow; Sukkot is three days out.

Zorah, Tuesday puts the regular school week back on the board after Yom Kippur. RHA runs Curriculum Night with a 2:30 dismissal, and the Week 1 lunch tray is salad, garlic knots, pizza, milk, and fries. The Hebrew date is Tishrei 11.

Daily brief: <https://sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/>

Wednesday sends Grade 6 to Mansfield. Friday is Erev Sukkot with a 3:15 dismissal, challah, and candles at 6:51 p.m. Saturday is Sukkot I with Jonah-Hockey at Bill Bolton (10:30-2:30) and a sleepover at Stone from 5:00. Sunday holds Sukkot II and swim at Prosserman JCC (12:55-1:25); the holiday ends at 7:48 p.m.

One household note still waits in the background: the RAV4 hail assessment is done, and Toyota has not yet sent a repair plan or time slot. No chase required this morning — just a reminder for later in the week.

INTERESTS

KITCHEN · SUKKOT

A stuffed pumpkin that travels from kitchen to sukkah

My Jewish Learning’s portable Sukkot main for the week heading into Erev Sukkot.

Sukkot cooking leans toward filled foods – portable, warm, and meant to feel abundant under the sukkah. Shoshanna Lockshin’s My Jewish Learning piece makes the case with a whole stuffed pumpkin: scoop it, fill it once, and carry the lid-on roast to the table without juggling sides.

The filling is Israeli couscous with sautéed onion, ground beef, celery, honey, raisins, and a splash of red wine, baked until the pumpkin yields to a fork. For a Toronto week that still has Curriculum Night and Mansfield before Friday’s Erev Sukkot, it is a make-ahead harvest main that fits North American fall produce.

STYLE DESK · KNITS

Rugby stripes, bright yellow, and a sweater that stands in for a jacket

Fall 2026 knitwear is louder than the quiet-luxury years.

Laura Lajiness Kaupke’s Marie Claire guide flags bright yellows and chartreuse beside cobalt, violet, green, and red; marled earth tones; rugby-inspired stripes; brushed fuzzy finishes; relaxed knit polos; and bold shoulders strong enough to skip a light jacket on a mild day.

For a Toronto Tuesday that starts overcast near 9°C and climbs toward 17°C, the wearable move is one updated knit – a stripe, a brighter color against denim or charcoal, or a structured shoulder – rather than a full closet reset before Curriculum Night.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN · COOKING

Etobicoke Ribfest brings BBQ back to the lakeshore

Fri Sep 25, 4–10 p.m.; Sat Sep 26, noon–10 p.m.; Sun Sep 27, noon–8 p.m. at Colonel Samuel Smith Park in Etobicoke – rib teams, festival sides, kids zone, and live music for the long Sukkot weekend. Family-friendly.

Word On The Street returns to David Pecaut Square

Sat Sep 26, 11 a.m.–6 p.m. and Sun Sep 27, 10 a.m.–5 p.m. at David Pecaut Square – Canada’s free outdoor literary festival, with author stages, a book marketplace, and a Kids & Family Zone. Fits a Sukkot weekend after hockey or around the Sunday swim window.

RECOMMENDED

Start the Sukkot main before the weekend rush

Prep the filling after Mansfield week noise settles, then bake when Erev Sukkot arrives Friday.

One knit update for cooler mornings

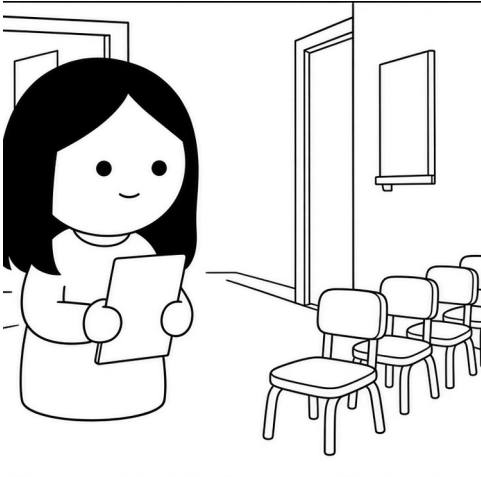

Add a rugby stripe, try a brighter yellow against navy, or lean on a bold shoulder when mornings are still near single digits.

Event details can change; check the listing before going.

DEAR TIMES

One page or a pocket of scraps?

Dear Times, Curriculum Night is tonight and dismissal is 2:30. I keep writing questions on scraps, then losing the scraps in the hallway. Is a single folded page overthinking it?

– List Keeper, Toronto

Dear List Keeper, One page beats five scraps. Write three questions you actually care about, leave room for answers, and put the page in the same pocket as the phone. The hallway will still be busy; your list does not have to be.
