The Zorah Times

VOL. 1 — FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 2026 — TORONTO, ONTARIO — AS OF 4:50 A.M. EST

DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

First early Shabbat, soup-and-grilled-cheese Friday, and a party that moved to Saturday

Cheshvan 26 · Chayei Sara · 2:30 dismissal · Candles 4:44 p.m. · Daily brief at sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/

Zorah, RHA's first early Shabbat of the season lands today: 2:30 dismissal, candles at 4:44 p.m., and the Week 1 lunch board lists soup, grilled cheese, wraps, fries, salad, and challah. It is about 11°C under light drizzle, with a high near 13°C and a low near 6°C.

Zachary's birthday party, which was on Thursday's calendar, is now Saturday from 5:30 to 7:30 after the move confirmed in All Hands. That puts it after Jonah's Sabres-vs-Jets hockey at Bill Bolton at 1:30.

Sunday is swimming at 12:55. Monday brings hamburger lunch and Sigd. Tuesday is Rosh Chodesh Kislev with pasta. Wednesday is Remembrance Day, including the Grade 8 ceremony and sushi lunch.

COOKING

An Egyptian potato casserole that browns at the edges

Nermine Mansour's saneyet batates bake potatoes, onions, and peppers in a cumin tomato broth

Nermine Mansour's saneyet batates ordehee – a meatless potato casserole from her family's table in Egypt – layers thick russet rounds with onion rings, green peppers, chiles, and beefsteak tomatoes in a broth of vegetable stock, tomato paste, cumin, coriander, and garlic. A final broil blisters the tomatoes and caramelizes the edges; the brick-red juices are meant for warm pita or vermicelli rice.

It is already vegetarian. Our note for a kosher kitchen: use olive oil rather than ghee if you want the dish pareve, and confirm the vegetable broth is kosher. That swap is ours, not the recipe's. Serves a crowd and holds well for a cool early-Shabbat Friday.

FASHION

Nine winter coats, from embroidered silk robes to frog closures

Judith Jones opens with Conner Ives's crane-embroidered silk robe coat – the shape she has already seen on Kendall Jenner, Hailey Bieber, and Zoë Kravitz – and Rixo's Micah jacket as a wearable version. Next come frog-closure coats that swap buttons for braided cord loops, then brocade and jacquard toppers with metallic finishes from the Dior and Dries Van Noten runways.

The rest of the list is tactile: faux-fur trim on collars and cuffs, animal print, cropped faux fur, funnel necks, Penny Lane coats with fuzzy edges, and long leather coats in black or brown. The point is a coat that finishes the outfit before you add anything else.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN

Royal Agricultural Winter Fair — opens today through Nov. 15

Today through Nov. 15 at Exhibition Place. Opening day for the 104th Royal: horse show, rodeos at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., livestock, culinary demos, and the holiday market. Largest indoor ag and equestrian fair of its kind.

Celestia light-and-music show — St. James Cathedral

Opens today through Jan. 31 at St. James Cathedral. A 360-degree projection and orchestral score mapped onto the cathedral interior. The same immersive show that ran in Denver and Chicago, timed for the holiday stretch.

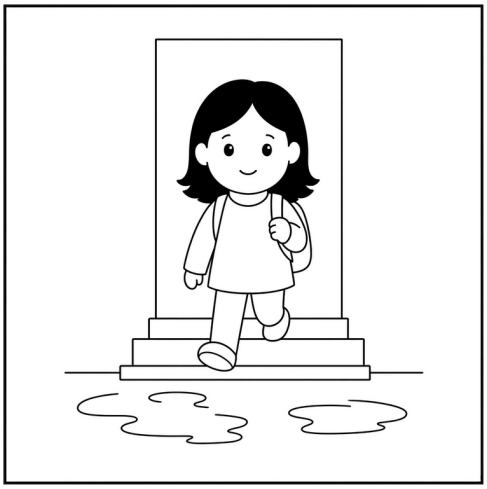

RECOMMENDED

Lit IRL — a bookish party at the Drake, tonight

The Fifth Edit Club's Lit IRL is a book-club party at the Drake Hotel tonight: book-themed cocktails, games, guest readings, and room to show up alone or with a club. Bring a favourite book or just curiosity – conversation is the point, not a syllabus.

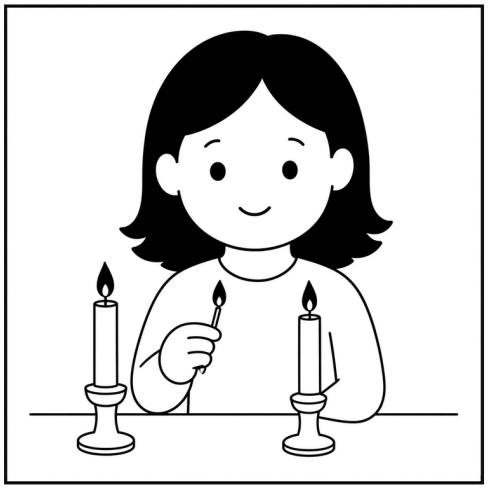

PUZZLES

2:30 p.m.: first early dismissal of the season.

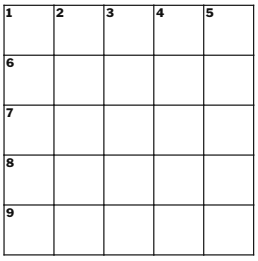

Home by three. Candles wait. So does the afternoon.

DEAR TIMES

School ends at 2:30. Candles are at 4:44. What fills the gap?

Dear Times, Today is the first early Shabbat dismissal. We are home by three with unlit candles and more than an hour before 4:44. Is the rule to treat the whole stretch as Shabbat already, or is the afternoon still ordinary until the match lights?

– Too Early, Toronto

Dear Reader, Ordinary until candles. Early dismissal frees the afternoon; it does not move sundown. Use the gap for the fair, a walk, or getting dinner ready, then light at 4:44. The kids can help set the table while they wait.
