Thanksgiving Monday, no school, and a mild start to Cheshvan

Cheshvan 1 · Rosh Chodesh day 2 · mostly cloudy near 20°C, rain chance under 5 per cent · Daily brief at sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/

Zorah, today is Thanksgiving Day in Ontario and the second day of Rosh Chodesh Cheshvan. RHA is closed, so there is no dismissal and no lunch box to pack.

The week opens Tuesday with pasta, garlic knots, salad and milk, then sushi and edamame on Wednesday. Thursday is the Grade 8 CHAT tour with Chinese food and a spring roll. Friday is a 3:15 dismissal, the Early Years re-registration deadline, and Shabbat Noach, with candles at 6:14.

Looking ahead, Jonah's exhibition hockey game against the Flyers is Saturday at 1:30 at Bill Bolton, and swimming is back Sunday at 12:55 at the Prosserman JCC. Monday's school calendar also shows Aliyah Day as a school observance on the Jewish holidays list for Oct. 18.

CTV / MARY BERG

Mary Berg turns Thanksgiving leftovers into a one-pan puff-pastry pie

Her CTV recipe softens leeks with bacon and sage, folds in diced turkey and leftover vegetables, then bakes under a sheet of puff pastry.

Mary Berg's Thanksgiving leftover pie starts in a cast-iron skillet. She crisps two strips of diced bacon, then softens the white and light-green parts of two leeks with sage for about 10 to 15 minutes under a lid.

Two cups of diced turkey and optional leftover vegetables go in next, with flour, two cups of chicken broth and two tablespoons of sour cream. She drapes thawed puff pastry over the pan, vents it, brushes with egg, and bakes at 375°F for 30 to 35 minutes. Cranberry sauce is the suggested side, and mashed potatoes can replace the pastry if that is what you have left.

ELLE CANADA

ELLE Canada's Lauren Knowles picks the fall 2026 coat trends from the runways

Lauren Knowles looked at the fall/winter 2026 runways for coats that still work in a Canadian climate. Checkered outerwear showed up at Akris and Burberry, and she treats it as the pattern of the season. Leather stays in, with runway cues from Magda Butrym, Balmain and Bottega Veneta pairing leather with maxi skirts and collared shirts.

Faux-fur teddy coats came from Chloé, Saint Laurent and Ermanno Scervino. Funnel-neck trenches raise the collar to the chin, toggle closures appeared at Louis Vuitton and Dries van Noten, and Balenciaga, Issey Miyake and Prada pushed brighter colour against the usual neutrals.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN

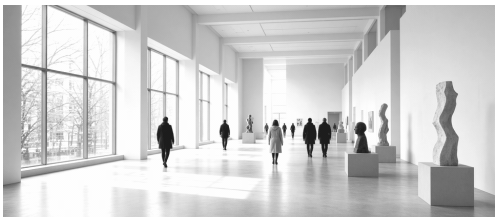

Art Gallery of Ontario open on Thanksgiving Monday

Monday, Oct. 12, 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Art Gallery of Ontario, downtown Toronto. CityNews lists the AGO among attractions open on Thanksgiving Monday, with hours from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Impressionist Revolution show from the Dallas Museum of Art is in its final week there, through Oct. 18. If a museum afternoon fits between turkey prep, it is one of the larger indoor options still running on the holiday while libraries and most banks are closed.

Royal Ontario Museum also open today

Monday, Oct. 12, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Royal Ontario Museum, Bloor Street. The same CityNews open-and-closed list has the ROM open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Thanksgiving Monday. Casa Loma, the Aga Khan Museum and the Toronto Zoo are on that open list too. TTC runs a holiday schedule and GO runs a Saturday schedule, so plan the trip with reduced service in mind.

ART GALLERY OF ONTARIO

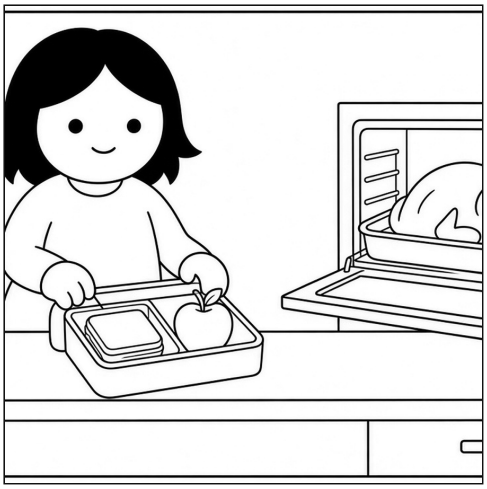

The Impressionist Revolution closes at the AGO on Oct. 18

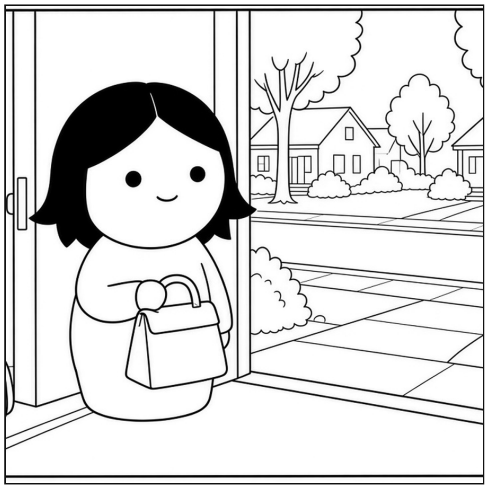

The Impressionist Revolution: Monet to Matisse, drawn from the Dallas Museum of Art, is in its last week at the Art Gallery of Ontario and closes Oct. 18. The AGO calls it a chronological look at how Impressionist techniques shaped later painters.

Works on view include Claude Monet, Berthe Morisot, Vincent van Gogh, Camille Pissarro, Paul Gauguin, Henri Matisse, Piet Mondrian and Edvard Munch. Members and annual passholders also get a few early or late exclusive hours around the closing weekend.

DEAR TIMES

Do I pack a lunch on a holiday?

Dear Times, It is Thanksgiving Monday and school is closed, but my hands still reach for the lunch box when I make coffee. Tomorrow is pasta day, so part of me wants to pack it tonight. The turkey is already in the oven. Should I pack tomorrow's lunch now, or leave the kitchen to the holiday?

— Habit Hands, Toronto

Dear Reader, Leave the lunch box alone until tonight after dinner, or Tuesday morning. The holiday kitchen has one job today. Pasta, garlic knots and salad are already on the school menu for Tuesday, so you are not solving a shortage by packing early. If you need a task, make space in the fridge for leftovers instead.
