VOL. 1 — MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2026 — TORONTO, ONTARIO — AS OF 5:01 A.M. EDT

DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

Hamburger Monday, a grey mild day, and a cold snap Tuesday

Cheshvan 15 · Overcast, high near 16°C, dry · Gr. 1 Coffee with Claire at 8 p.m. · Daily brief at sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/

Zorah, it is a grey but gentle Monday in Toronto: about 9°C at 7 a.m., feeling closer to 6°C, with the sun up at 7:45 behind the clouds. It warms quickly to about 13°C by mid-morning and near 16°C at noon, then holds around 14 to 15°C through pickup. Rain chances stay tiny all day, so a light jacket is enough.

At RHA it is Week 2 lunch, which means hamburgers, veggie sticks and potato wedges. Sunset is at 6:16, and it is still about 12°C at 8 p.m., when the Grade 1 Coffee with Claire gets going. Tomorrow is the one to dress for: a high of only 9°C and a low near 2°C.

This week brings sushi on Wednesday, a warm, showery Thursday near 19°C, and a 3:15 dismissal Friday with candles at 5:53. Saturday is Halloween with a 12:30 hockey game and a sleepover, and clocks go back an hour Sunday, November 1.

WEATHER

16° / 7° HIGH / LOW

Grey and mild. About 9°C at 7 a.m., feeling near 6°C, with sunrise at 7:45 hidden by cloud. Up to about 13°C by 10 and near 16°C at noon, then 14–15°C through the afternoon. Rain chance only about 6%, so a light jacket does it. Cloudy after sunset at 6:16, about 12°C at 8 p.m. but feeling near 8°C, and down to about 9°C by 11. Tuesday turns cold: high near 9°C, low near 2°C.

RECOMMENDED COOKING

A grey-day pot of white beans, kale and Parmesan

Annaliese Keller's creamy-without-cream Tuscan-style soup, in Edible Monterey Bay's Edible Paradise

Annaliese Keller built this Tuscan-inspired supper for evenings that want soup without a long afternoon of cooking. Canned Great Northern or cannellini beans keep it a weeknight meal, though beans cooked from dried work too, and their cooking liquid can stand in for broth. Blending part of the vegetables gives the broth body, and Parmesan brings richness without any cream. It serves four to six.

Red and yellow onions soften in olive oil for eight to ten minutes, then garlic and red pepper flakes go in, followed by a splash of white wine and eight chopped ripe tomatoes. Half the mixture is blended smooth with the vegetable broth, then the beans and a bunch of kale simmer until tender. A cup of fresh-grated Parmesan is stirred in a handful at a time over low heat. Serve with crusty bread or focaccia.

RECOMMENDED FASHION

Satin to the office, plaid to the party: fall's rule-breakers

Jaclyn Alexandra Cohen says the best fall shows disrupted expectations: knitwear became an evening layer and tuxedos stepped into daylight. Plaid went brighter, in chiffon and silk; try a plaid skirt for the office with knee-high boots and a neutral blazer, or a plaid dress for a cocktail party. Red became a new neutral – start with a red belt with raw jeans and a white tee.

Waists got attention too, from runway cummerbunds to a silky opera scarf tied around black trousers and a blue button-down. The "undone lady" throws a trench over an arm and clutches leather gloves. Sweaters went out at night over satin, a tuxedo jacket swaps in for a blazer with jeans, and drop-waist dresses, best with a classic pointed- or almond-toe pump, gave the season its shape.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN

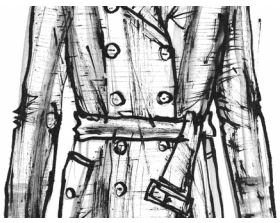

Pumpkin Carving at Allan Gardens

Wed Oct 28 & Thu Oct 29, 4–7 p.m. at Allan Gardens. Carve your own mini-pumpkin jack-o'-lantern at the Friends of Allan Gardens table, with pumpkins and carving tools supplied. Costumes are welcome and parents supervise. It is a short after-school stop on Wednesday or Thursday, and the Palm House next door is warm on a cool evening.

Halloween Spooktacular at Sankofa Square

Sat Oct 31, noon–5 p.m. at Sankofa Square. The Downtown Yonge BIA throws an afternoon of family-friendly Halloween activities and surprises in the heart of downtown, with special appearances by the Toronto Ghostbusters and by Bluey and Bingo. Come dressed in your Halloween best; free, all ages. After Saturday's 12:30 hockey, there's still time.

RECOMMENDED

Your best Halloween costume may already be in your closet

Jessica Wang's rule for a grown-up costume this week: build the outfit from your closet and buy only the clue. The fashion editor is sharp black trousers and a turtleneck with dark sunglasses, a red lip and a clipboard. The film-noir detective needs a classic trench, loafers or ankle boots and a notebook, and gets better if the weather turns cold. Audrey after midnight is a black dress, pearls, cat-eye sunglasses and a tiny tiara.

DEAR TIMES

Grey Monday, cold Tuesday — when do the winter coats come out?

Dear Times, Today looks grey but mild, and the forecast says Tuesday drops to 9 with a low of 2. My son insists his fall jacket is fine and the winter coat is "for December." Halloween is Saturday and he wants a costume with no coat over it. Do I win this one now, or wait for the first real cold?

— Coat Closet Diplomat, Toronto

Dear Reader, Win it Tuesday, quietly. Today is about 16°C and overcast with almost no rain, so the fall jacket is fine for hamburger day. Tuesday's 2°C morning is the coat's audition: hang it by the door tonight, with a hat in the pocket. Thursday warms to 19 with a chance of showers, so the debate will return. For Saturday, around 12°C and mostly dry, plan a costume roomy enough to fit a sweater underneath.
