DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

Rosh Hashanah is two days out; the menu work is still open

Friday night begins the holiday. The second-night dishes and a pending Toyota call are the useful household updates.

Zorah, Rosh Hashanah Eve is Friday, with the holiday continuing through Sunday. The connected calendar views still show no appointments today through the weekend, including Shawn's primary and the shared Family calendar.

Daily brief: <https://sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/>

The second-night menu assignment is unchanged: matza ball soup and apple cake dessert. Family is still waiting on Toyota's repair plan and time slot after the RAV4 hail assessment.

INTERESTS

RECOMMENDED · COOKING

Cook the matzo balls in their own pot

Bon Appétit's method keeps the broth clear while the dumplings cook.

Molly Baz's matzo ball soup chills the dumpling mixture for at least 35 minutes, then simmers the balls in salted water instead of in the soup. The broth gets depth from roasted chicken wings, and the balls can be made a couple of days ahead and warmed in the soup later.

Six autumn pieces that keep showing up

Who What Wear's Sep 1 list sticks to pieces that return every fall rather than a full wardrobe reset.

The checklist is a suede bag, a leather jacket, dark indigo jeans, a Fair Isle sweater, a button-down shirt, and gathered loafers.

The useful move is picking one or two from that list to wear with what you already own.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN · FASHION

Fall Fashion Fair

Saturday, Sep 12, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Ground Control on Queen West. More than 35 makers are listed for clothing, jewellery, accessories, vintage, and fashion-themed art.

Southern pasta at Eataly

Friday, Sep 11, 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., Eaton Centre. Hands-on southern Italian shapes such as cavatelli and orecchiette, dough from scratch, and a plated tasting. Friday evening is also Rosh Hashanah Eve.

A TORONTO NOTE

Two different kinds of outing

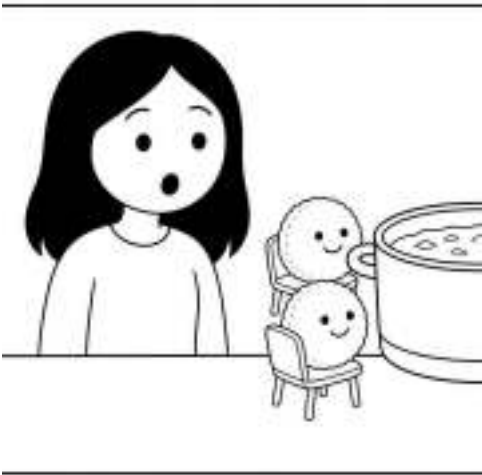

The fashion fair is a daytime browse. The pasta class is a fixed evening session on the holiday Eve, so the calendar may decide for you.

Event details can change; check the listing before going.

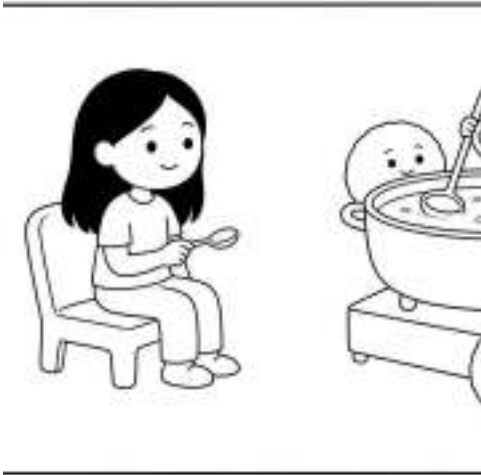

PUZZLES

Matza-ball prep for second night begins.

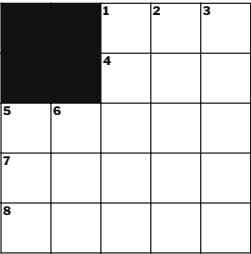

The dumplings request a proper tasting setup.

By the end, they are running the tasting.

MINI CROSSWORD

- ACROSS
- 1 Fitting; a make-ahead soup plan before Friday night.
 - 4 Baked dessert cousin of the assigned apple cake.
 - 5 Fruit named in the second-night dessert assignment.
 - 7 A test run, as in trying the cake once before Sunday.
 - 8 What you sink into a finished slice.
- DOWN
- 1 Suitable; how Friday's weather looks for indoor cooking.
 - 2 Three-letter dessert often near apples.
 - 3 The cake fruit still on the holiday list.
 - 5 Trial version of a recipe.
 - 6 Bite tools; keep them away from raw batter jokes.

DEAR TIMES

Can the matzo balls wait in the fridge?

Dear Times, Second night is still a few days away, but I keep almost starting the matzo ball mixture every time I walk through the kitchen. Is it reasonable to mix and chill the dumplings now, or does that just create more dishes before Friday?

— Early Mixer, Toronto

Dear Early Mixer, Mix them when you have a clear half hour and chill the dough as the recipe allows. Cooking the balls a day or two ahead is fine if you store them with a little cooking liquid and warm them in the soup later. Label the container so the mixture does not become a mystery bowl.

WANTED

THUNDERPROOF KITCHEN

Seeking a stove that ignores afternoon storm risk while broth simmers. Must accept that weather forecasts are not dinner guests.

HOLIDAY COUNTDOWN PERSON

Needed to say out loud that Friday is Eve and Sunday still needs soup and cake. Calm voice preferred.

FOR SALE

ONE PATIENT RAV4 FILE

Imaginary folder labeled waiting for Toyota. Includes empty lines for plan and time slot. No shop visits by bots.

FALL STARTER KIT

Leather jacket energy, dark jeans, and loafers described in a magazine list. Actual closet contents sold separately.
