DAILY BRIEF — ZORAH'S DAILY HOME

YOUR DAY

Fog at drop-off, spring rolls at lunch, and a jump to about 21°C by mid-afternoon

Cheshvan 18 · Foggy morning, warm afternoon, high near 21°C · Showers possible after 5 p.m. · Daily brief at sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/

Zorah, it is a soft, foggy start: about 8°C at 7 a.m., feeling near 7°C with almost no wind, and the fog hangs on until around 9 or 10 a.m., so take it slowly on the drive. The sun rises at 7:49. By noon it is about 16°C, and it peaks near 21°C around 3 p.m. with a breeze picking up to about 20 km/h.

At RHA it is Chinese food with a spring roll for lunch, and the JK/SK classes go skating. Pickup should feel like late September. Showers become possible from 5 p.m., with the chance climbing from about 17% to 27% by 7, so keep an umbrella in the car; sunset is 6:12 and it is still about 15°C at 8. Your Daily brief is at sdltor.github.io/household-groceries/.

Friday cools to about 11°C under grey skies, with a 3:15 dismissal and candles at 5:53. Saturday is Halloween: hockey at 12:30, then the sleepover, and Shabbat ends at 6:53. The clocks go back an hour early Sunday, before Jonah's 12:55 swim.

RECOMMENDED COOKING

A weeknight Bolognese that gets its body from canned pumpkin

Shilpa Uskokovic's Pumpkin Bolognese for Bon Appétit's Pumpkin Week, on the table in about an hour

Classic Bolognese wants hours; Shilpa Uskokovic's version takes about 1 hour 10 minutes and serves four. A cup of canned pumpkin purée, lightly caramelized in the pot with two tablespoons of tomato paste, gives the sauce body and a nutty, savoury edge. It starts with butter, a finely chopped onion, two celery stalks, five garlic cloves and a little nutmeg, covered and softened until golden at the edges.

A pound of ground beef is browned only lightly, then a full cup of whole milk goes in and cooks off before a cup of dry white wine follows. The order matters: wine first would curdle the milk. Water loosens it to a sauce, and 12 ounces of fresh tagliatelle or pappardelle, or dry rigatoni, is tossed in with pasta water and a cup of grated Parmesan. For a kosher kitchen, our own swap (not Bon Appétit's): start in olive oil instead of butter, use oat milk for the whole milk and skip the Parmesan.

RECOMMENDED FASHION

Start with the boots: ten fall outfits built from the ground up

Laura Lajiness Kaupke's case is that boots transform an outfit, and this season the fun is in the contrast. A brushed pale-blue sweater goes with a chocolate leather skirt and brown suede boots. Dark indigo jeans, a playful jacket and a simple black ankle boot make the everyday version, and a delicate chiffon dress is grounded with knee-high leather boots and a suede coat.

For polish, a coordinated wool jacket and skirt get tall riding boots and a crisp button-down. A classic black maxi dress takes a cashmere layer, black knee-highs and a pop-of-red bag. Her easiest idea for a day like today: a lace-trimmed silk midi under a trench and a knitted half-zip, with flat tall leather boots for all-day walking.

THE TOWN

ON THE TOWN

Toronto International Festival of Authors

Through Sun Nov 1 at Victoria College, University of Toronto. Canada's largest literary festival runs more than 100 events this year, with guests including Ann-Marie MacDonald, Patrick deWitt, Dave Eggers and Andrew Sean Greer. Day and weekend passes are sold; the on-site box office is open 2 to 8 p.m. today and Friday, and from 9:30 a.m. on the weekend.

Pumpkin parades in the parks

Sun Nov 1, evening at Sorauren, Sackville and Degrassi parks. Bring Saturday's jack-o'-lantern for one last glow. Sorauren Park's parade, running since 2004, starts at 6 p.m.; Corktown's at Sackville Park runs 5:30 to 7; Degrassi Park in Riverside runs 6 to 8 with free hot chocolate and asks for a food-bank donation.

RECOMMENDED

One pan, one fall dinner: chicken, sweet potatoes and apples

Serious Eats' test kitchen browns chicken thighs skin-side down, then cooks sweet potatoes and shallots in the drippings before the apples go in, so the potatoes brown instead of steaming. Rosemary, thyme and sage add warmth, and a glossy pan sauce of white wine, Dijon, cider vinegar, maple syrup and butter keeps it bright: a good Thursday dinner if the showers arrive. Olive oil can stand in for the butter, our swap, not theirs.

PUZZLES

7 a.m.: fog so thick the school appears one step at a time.

3 p.m., 21°C: the jacket comes off and the spring roll goes up.

6 p.m.: the showers arrive right on time, and so does dinner.

DEAR TIMES

Fog, then 21, then rain: how do I dress for three days in one?

Dear Times, At drop-off it will be 8°C and I won't be able to see the end of the street. By pickup it is apparently 21, and then there might be showers on the way home. I have one jacket, one pair of boots and limited patience. What is the plan?

— Three Forecasts, One Closet, Toronto

Dear Reader, Layers you can carry. Start with a light trench over a thin half-zip: at 7 a.m. it feels near 7°C, but there is almost no wind. By 3 it is about 21°C, so the trench goes over your arm. Wear flat tall boots, which Harper's Bazaar says carry an outfit all day, and keep an umbrella in the car: the chance of showers reaches about 27% by 7 p.m.
